Exploring
Quedlinburg

A photograph of two women standing next to a large, decorated Christmas tree. The tree is covered in warm white lights and gold and silver ornaments. The woman on the left is wearing a grey sweater and blue jeans, and the woman on the right is wearing a green t-shirt and black pants. They are both smiling. In the background, there is a white door with a decorative glass panel and red curtains. A red circular overlay in the bottom left corner contains the text "Not a German Xmas ...".

Dear Estefania,

It was supposed to be 3 weeks, but it became more than 4 months. Time has flown by and we have shared so much: worked hard, laughed a lot, cried, go on day trips (in the meantime picking up eBay stuff ...), enjoyed exciting series on Netflix.

Tedious jobs, the snow, -15 degrees Celsius, Edwards tempers, you braved it all. You are a super woman! Girl powerrrrrrrrr.

We have taken you into our hearts and you became very special for us. We are so grateful that you helped us so much and that we had the privilege of getting to know you. Your cheerfulness, your singing and your generous smile will always be with us.

Enjoy your next adventures and we hope to see you soon again. Know that we will always help you, wherever you are, and that the door is always open for you.

Lot's of love, Ingrid and Edward

Thanks
a lot!
